- We have visited 50 schools throughout the region and are currently assisting 9 of them, chosen for outstanding leadership.
- Assistance includes books, computers, science lab equipment and other academic material.
- Individual members make site visits to supported schools, teach there, advise and maintain close relationships.
- All travel is self-paid; we have no paid staff and no salaries. Contributions go entirely to education in East Africa.
- TEAA is a non-profit tax-exempt (501c3) organization.

Why East Africa? Why Education? Why TEAA? and How?

East African nations - Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania - have strong governments successfully fighting off past corruption. They all have ambitious educational plans that build on past success. Each has English as a national language (along with Swahili in two of them).

Education is crucial to a developing nation. Industrial progress, health care, proper government and other issues can be successfully addressed only in the context of an educated citizenry.

TEAA and its members have current hands-on experience in all three countries. We have successful programs underway in 9 schools. We go there, we know people, we work with schools to determine what they really need and we make sure they get it.

How do we do it? Some of the project types are shown below. Detailed information appears on our website: <http://cs.gmu.edu/~henryh/TEAA>. Photos too!
